Well-meaning people want to believe that all roads lead to the same God and heaven. But wanting something to be true is far different from truth lining up with reality. Unless you make an intentional effort to examine what you believe and why you believe it, it's quite possible you are living your life on the basis of a lie, and don't know it.

- What is truth?
- Is it absolute or relative?
- Is truth universal?
- What are the differences among the various religious faiths? Can they be blended?
- Are we creating faith—a belief system—that is impotent by trying to accept all religions as equal?
