Author Bio

Pamela Christian

For over twenty-five years Pamela Christian, has been helping people in matters of faith. Pam compassionately wants people to confidently discover and live in, life-giving truth. Her ministry experience began as Teaching Director for Community Bible Study, (an independent, interdenominational, international organization). This led to her receiving invitations to speak at various retreats and conferences, followed by work as radio talk-show host in two major markets. Her first publications were as contributing writer to various books and magazines. With her experience and certificate in apologetics from Biola University, Pam's passion continues to be expressed as book author and media personality. In 2018 she was awarded honorary Doctorate of Divinity from HSNB International School of Ministry. She and her husband live in Orange County, CA, with their two grown children living nearby.

Prepare for the Harvest! Confidence in God's End-Time Promises Description

The High level of hostility, extreme hatred, and unprecedented violence worldwide today is unlike any other time in history. Many respond with fear, others with denial, still others seek to escape to safety.

- Are we living in the Last Days as prophesied in the Bible thousands of years ago?
- Who can escape the great and terrible Day of the Lord?
- Will the volatility we face with unpredictable world leaders and the escalating levels toward wars build up to World War III? Is this setting the stage for Armageddon described in the Bible?

The Bible speaks of a great End-Time Harvest of souls. The Church must be prepared to receive and disciple the many people who are awakening to the truth of Jesus. What will the Harvest be like and how can we get ready?

Endorsements

Pamela Christian's timely book will help people understand what the Bible says about the End Times and how to respond and to walk in peace as the second coming of Jesus draws closer. Her book provides insight in God's faithfulness and inspiration to raise up to walk closely with Jesus. Pamela has clearly identified the darkness that is accelerating in this day along with the scriptural promises to prepare us so that we are not caught off guard. There are many practical principles in this book that will equip ministry leaders to strengthen others in the Body of Christ and to prepare believers to boldly stand against the plans of the enemy. Prepare for the Harvest! Confidence in God's End-Times Promises will help equip those who are anxious about the future.

~MIKE BICKLE

International House of Prayer, Kansas City

Pamela Christian's latest book, Prepare for the Harvest! Confidence in God's End Time Promises, is the fourth in her series called, Faith to Live By. God has always had a plan for this earth and He has guided mankind with The Word and equipped us to uncover truth for the end times. Digging into the scriptures, and using theology with well-documented material, Pamela remarkably teaches us to use our faith to influence the lost. While we are living in these days, we can have total expectancy of God's promises and not dread for what will transpire. Pamela's book explains how we must come into this hour in history with Holy Spirit's wisdom, with much prayer, and prepare the churches for the massive harvest of souls. Loving the unlovable, caring for the unfortunate, and showing value to the least valuable people in society will be the new norm for the church today. As we embrace "whosoever will", then and only then, can we honestly usher in the kingdom of God.

Various positions regarding the millennium and subsequent end time theories are confusing and can lead many to believe in false doctrines. Pam makes it clear that Christ has fulfilled all requirements as He stated "It is Finished." Historical fulfillment, current events, are clearly delineated, and the church needs correct biblical theology, that allows the body of Christ to work towards fulfilling the great commission as Christ commanded. Pam has written a thorough analysis of the various positions and this book is a great companion to her other three excellent doctrinal resource books.

INTRODUCTION

Having been in ministry for over twenty-five years I have seen a lot of trends or movements within Christianity—some for the better, though not all. Wanting to help people discover and live in life-giving truth, especially after learning about the devastating extent of deception vast numbers of people are under, I wrote the first book in this Faith to Live By series: Examine Your Faith! Finding Truth in a World of Lies. Initially, I thought I'd write just the one book. However, while writing it I realized there would be at least three; now here I am writing the fourth in the series because of the great and terrible realities of our time.

The entire world is in chaos. Every nation, every people group, every community is suffering major upheaval. There is not an aspect of society anywhere that is unaffected. What was right is now wrong, and what was wrong is considered right. It's overwhelming for those who don't know these days were prophesied long ago, and therefore to be expected. Even for those who knew these days would come, it is tremendously unsettling. We need to find our moorings and make certain we are securely stationed on truth.

Many speak of the Billion Soul Harvest they believe is imminent. Others refer to the Great White Harvest, the End-Time Harvest of Souls, and the Latter Rain Revival. Are these referring to the same event of harvesting souls, or are they different events? What situations or circumstances will precede the Last Days? What signs and realities should we watch for to know we've entered the time of the Great White Harvest? What must we do to be prepared? What will happen to those who are not prepared? Is the Church ready to disciple a mighty influx of new believers?

Pentecost, as revealed in the book of Acts, was a tremendous and unique display of God's power and compassion that marked the beginning of the Last Days. After Jesus' death, He appeared to His disciples, over a period of forty days speaking about the kingdom of God. Acts 1:4 reads, "And while staying with them, he ordered them not to depart from Jerusalem but to wait for the promise of the Father, which he said, 'you heard from me, for John baptized you with water, but you will be baptized with the Holy Spirit not many days from now.'"

While Jesus also appeared to over 500 people, making them witnesses of His resurrected body,ⁱ the number of disciples He instructed to wait for the baptism of the Holy Spirit was about 120 in number.ⁱⁱ Not fully understanding what they were waiting for, still they remained in a Jerusalem residence, joined together in an upper room. The baptism of the Holy Spirit came with "a sound of a mighty rushing wind and it filled the entire house where they were sitting. And divided tongues as of fire appeared to them and rested on each one of them. And they were all filled with the Holy Spirit and began to speak in other tongues as the Spirit gave them utterance" (Acts 2:2-4).

Because Pentecost is a celebrated Jewish holiday, the city of Jerusalem was filled with Jewish believers from many other nations on this day. The sound of the commotion among the disciples attracted a multitude to seek out the cause. The multitude were bewildered and astonished because “each one was hearing them speak in his own language.”ⁱⁱⁱ Men from all over the known world heard the disciples speaking in their native language about the works of God. This miraculous event was the beginning of the End Times, according to the Old Testament prophet Joel. This means we have been living in the Last Days for the past nearly 2,020 years.

Yet, as I observe Christians and the Church at large, I don't see any evidence of a proper awareness concerning this epic reality. This remind me of the response of people to Noah in his day, who heard the claims of imminent danger but did not believe. As a result, they perished. It is not God's desire that any should perish. God has gone to great lengths to provide us prophecy in the Scriptures so we can be prepared to overcome in the impending End Times.

With this book I want to take you through some of the prophecies concerning the End Times in an overview fashion, while exploring the evidence and signs to assist us in reading the times in which we live. I will explore some of the various doctrinal positions on the End Times, and actual historical events that have served as precursors to the Last Days. I will also explore what we can and must do to be prepared for this great and terrible season.

God has not given us the prophecies for us to respond with fear and dread, although a great number of Christians respond that way. God has given us the prophecies for wisdom and insight so we can be prepared to be workers of the harvest—partners with Jesus in harvesting souls into the kingdom of God.

If we will listen and heed what God has said, we will find ourselves in His protection, able to escape the judgment that is certain to come upon this earth—upon those who refuse to believe. Let's not be counted among those; instead let us learn all we can to be prepared for the Great White Harvest that will lead to the glorious return of our Lord and Savior, Jesus the Christ, which means Anointed One.

This book is written for those who hope there is a way of escape from the ever-increasing evil all around. Let me reassure you, dear reader, there is a glorious way of escape; there is a tremendous hope and a future for you if you genuinely seek truth. As we see evil, rebellion, lawlessness, chaos, and every form of wickedness increasing, we are seeing the birth pains of the beginning of the end of this world. Scripture, which for Christians includes both the Old and New Testaments, provides us all the prophetic revelations and promises we need to persevere with the victory of Christ (the Anointed One) Jesus.

The Old Testament refers to the books from Genesis through Malachi and more specifically the Law of Moses which governed God's people until the New Testament era. The New Testament refers to the period encompassing Christ's life, death, and resurrection, which fulfilled the Old Testament Law and ushered in God's grace.

May this book bring confidence and assurance to your soul, while helping you learn how to respond to the great and terrible days that precede the return of Christ.

Target Market

Adults ages 25-35 years, who have been taught all that exists originated with a cosmic blast, and evolved over billions of years. As a result, there is no life purpose, except survival of the fittest, there is no greater authority than humanity, and upon death all creatures cease to exist. Of this group, those who are honest about their feelings about this teaching will have to admit deep down they are frustrated and utterly dissatisfied because they sense and desire there to be much more to life.

Talking Points for Pamela Christian

Prepare for the Harvest! Confidence in God's End-Time Promises by Pamela Christian

"Why would you feel any sense of insignificance unless you were created for significance?"

—Pamela Christian, Author

- 1 Prepare for the Harvest! Confidence in God's End-Time Promises is the fourth book in your award-winning Faith to Live By book series. What do you mean by Harvest, and what does any harvest have to do with God's End-Time promises?
- 2 You write using what's known as apologetics to defend the faith-claims you make. Why do you appeal to the intellect concerning spiritual matters?
- 3 Study of the End-Times is referred to as eschatology in academic circles. When did you become interested in eschatology?
- 4 The Christian views of the End-Times are based on the Bible. Yet, there are many people today who have absolutely no reverence for the Bible. How do you appeal to this group of people to bring them to consider the course of impending events?
- 5 You divided your book in three sections—the Past, the Present and the Future. Since End-Times concerns the future, why did you devote sections to the Past and the Present?
- 6 In your research to write this book, what were some of your findings that intrigued you the most?
- 7 You really emphasize the fact that no one, not even Jesus, knows the day and hour of God's final Day of Judgment. However, Jesus instructed His disciples to watch for signs of the End-Times so they would not be caught off guard. What are some of these signs?
- 8 Chapter 5 begins the section about our present-day realities in order for the reader to understand God and His intervention among humanity, and all creation really. How do you explain where planet earth is in God's timeline?
- 9 You have chapters in the third section of the book devoted to the Prepared Church and the Prepared Saint. Help our viewers have insights to why you specifically address the Church and individual Christians and provide some examples of what you believe is lacking.
- 10 In closing what more would you like to share with our audience today and don't forget to let our listeners/viewers know how they can get a copy of your book.
